

Make yourself a bucket list for the next 365 days. It needs to be something you have a burning desire to do, something that is achievable and something that makes you want to pull it off. These are not resolutions. Your list can be fun, adventurous, have small goals that may be professional or personal, like learn a new skill or overcome fears and be charitable. The choice is yours!
What would you like from the next 365 days?

1.

2.

3.

4.

5.

6.

7.

8.

9.

10.

Try and see if you can make the above happen. Make time for the things you want to do more of and allow yourself to use your time the way you really want to!